

MONDAY EVENING, AUG. 26, 1895.

THE DEATH of Rev. Dr. Suter is regretted not only by the members of the congregation of his own church, but by all who knew him, for all such had learned to respect him. He had lived such a life that he was not afraid to die, and when informed that his disease was fatal and that he had but a few hours to live, he accepted notice of the inexorable summons with the resignation and fortitude of the faith he had professed and taught, and by the manner of his death gave another lesson even of the worldly advantage insured by that faith. His congregation were notified of his death by the tolling of the bell above them during services yesterday, and their prayers accompanied his spirit to the "land of the dead."

GENERAL FITZ LEE having publicly expressed his long and well-known ideas in favor of the gold money standard of value, Governor O'Ferrall has written a long public letter expressing similar views, though, unlike the General's, so far as they are from being well known that they are entirely unlike those he was supposed to entertain a short time ago. But, to surmount that difficulty, the Governor, though he long ago reached the years of maturity, casts consistency aside as a matter of little or no consequence. But it is no wonder that the Governor should now declare for the gold standard, as the President has done so, for he is on record as saying that whatever the latter does is right on general principles. But as the reasonable people of Virginia know that whether there be silver or gold dollars, they will not get one, unless in exchange for work or something they have to sell, the Governor's recent second sight on the currency outlook will not be very likely to affect the election of a U. S. Senator whose term will not commence until March, 1899.

THE NEGRO suffragists in Washington have determined to ask the President to aid them in their proposed new effort to attain their object. As the President has said that negroes must be appointed to office, not for efficiency, not under the civil service law, but "in order to recognize the colored element of the country's population," he should certainly grant their referred request. Then, too, as Alexandria county, the anti-Alexander's Island race track newspapers of Washington should be allowed an opportunity of knowing how it is themselves, and of realizing some of the benefits of that sort of suffrage.

THE FEDERAL office holders in Kentucky and Iowa attended the democratic conventions in those States in a body, the President's old order to the contrary, and took entire charge of them, irrespective of the wishes of the democrats thereof. In Maryland it was different. The federal office holders there obeyed the order referred to and, according to it, abstained from active interference in politics, and the democrats there had control of their own affairs, uninfluenced by pressure from Washington.

THE government of the United States is now considerably exercised about an almost bloodless attack that has been made by some lawless fanatics in China upon American missionaries who ridiculed their religion and bought their children to make converts of them. But it views with placid serenity the cold blooded and deliberate murder of fifteen inoffensive Indians by a band of cowboys, because the tribe to which they belonged killed the father of the leader of that band fifteen years ago.

IF A few persons really think it is essentially requisite and necessary that there should be a cable telegraph between this country and the Sandwich Islands, they should by all means supply the money it will cost, especially as the filibusters who have seized those islands have promised it a subsidy. But surely they can not reasonably expect that all the people of the United States should be taxed to pay for laying a cable in which they are not in the least interested.

IT NOW turns out that the Chinese government had no objection to the presence of foreigners at the investigation of the recent race riots in its country, but rather, gladly availed itself of all possible means of detecting the offenders and bringing them to justice. But there must be something for the jingoes to rave about, and if facts can not furnish the material, their fertile imagination can supply any required demand.

IT WAS an evil day for this country when English, Dutch and Yankee ships brought negroes from Africa to its shores, for they were the cause, not only of an internecine, but of the bloodiest and most expensive war of modern times, have been a prolific source of trouble ever since that war, and if the Paris government were not wiser than the one at Washington, would involve the country in a foreign war.

AT A recent meeting of the Union League, of Washington, one of the speakers said "the colored race thought too much of the religious, and not enough of the material side of life." What do people who know anything at all of negro nature and character think of that? And yet it is of such material as the speaker referred that the negroes make their leaders.

IT is true that Minister Eustis's famous jingo speech was ill-timed, out of place, and altogether wrong, but it is just as certain that he is in nowise to blame for the course he has pursued in the Waller case. As a general thing, however, President Cleveland's Southern appointees to diplomatic positions haven't done themselves or their section much credit.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.

The Postoffice Department has disciplined some of the letter carriers in Baltimore for alleged dereliction of duty. As a result of the investigation carried on by postoffice inspectors seven of the carriers have been suspended for periods ranging from five to fifteen days.

W. W. Kettel, the Pittsburgh suicide, was a clerk in the Record and Pension division of the War Department. There seems to be some melodramatic mystery behind his death which cannot be cleared up here at present. He left the office several days ago on a seven days' leave, but, so far as can be learned, without having acquainted anyone of the purpose of his vacation or destination. He was to have been married last week, and had failed to appear at the appointed time.

A cablegram has been received at the State Department from Minister Thompson at Rio de Janeiro stating that an agreement of peace has been signed by the federal government of Brazil and the Rio Grande revolutionists.

Secretary Lamont returned to Washington last night and to-day resumed his duties as Secretary of War. It is publicly stated at the Navy Department to-day that Lieut. Lee Holcombe, U. S. N., was put off the Southern Pacific Railroad train at Oyster Bay, Saturday, on his way to San Francisco, for traveling on a railroad ticket he bought from a scalper, and that he had to wait until he could telegraph to Washington for money.

Six hundred thousand dollars in gold were withdrawn from the Treasury to-day for shipment to Europe.

At least three thousand idle negroes, men, women and children, spent several hours to-day in following a negro band that was advertising itself by marching through the streets of this city. A Maryland farmer who saw them said every one of them could get constant employment at fair wages on farms in his State.

Race horse men here say that Mr. Wood Martin, the judge at the St. Asaph race course, has severed his connection with that track.

The Newport News, the day steamer on the route between Norfolk and this city, will make her last day trip for the season on Sunday next. After that date she will relieve temporarily either one of the night boats on the line that may require repairing or replacing.

General Ransom left here yesterday for his home in North Carolina, but is expected back in a day or two. He does not appear to entertain a doubt of his reappointment as Minister to Mexico, though it was expected at both the Judiciary and State departments that he would have been reappointed the day after the President was informed of the flaw in his commission.

The grading of the roadbed of the Mount Vernon Railroad through the Alexandria reservation has been almost completed; the work will then be prosecuted through the intervening three brick yards, to Waterloo, where the road will join the Washington and Alexandria Railroad. The company will have at its office here to-morrow, or next day, a large number of electric railroad engineers engaged in drawing plans and patterns for the underground trolley work on 14th street in this city, the iron for which will be ready by the 15th of October, and the contractors say they can have it in place within thirty days, by which time the railroad officers say the road from the Alexandria Driving Park to Waterloo will be completed.

RECEPTION TO CARDINAL GIBBONS. The reception tendered to Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore last night by the Catholic Club was an event long to be remembered. Long before 8 o'clock, the hour set for the arrival of the guests, thousands of persons had gathered on Charles street in front of the archiepiscopal residence and the club house directly opposite.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the cardinal, leaning upon the arm of James R. Wheeler, president of the Catholic Club, emerged through the immense throng to the club house, closely followed by Archbishop Satolli, Mr. Sherrett, Bishops Foley, of Detroit, Mich., and Donohue, of Wheeling, W. Va., and the clergy of Baltimore, led by the venerable Mgr. McColgan. When the cardinal was seated, with Mgr. Satolli and Bishop Foley on either side, Assistant District Attorney Edward H. Gans welcomed him on behalf of the Catholic Club and the citizens in a few well-chosen words. His eminence responded briefly, thanking the committee, club and the assembled hosts for the unmistakable warmth of their greeting.

The cardinal objects to public demonstrations on the Sabbath, but owing to the fact that the annual retreat of the Catholic clergy of the archdiocese will begin to-day the officers of the club prevailed upon him to allow his flock to see him and say a word of greeting before concluding himself for a week in St. Mary's seminary, where the retreat will be held.

Cardinal Gibbons officiated at the 7 o'clock mass at the Cathedral. He also delivered a short sermon on "Love your neighbors." No reference was made in the discourse to his European experiences.

Two men met a horrible death on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this morning. Ludwig Berkley, a hostler, in Wheeling, W. Va., fell under the switch engine on which his brother was engineer, and was cut to pieces. Edward Henning fell from a train at Cameron and was run over and killed.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Fire in Cincinnati on Saturday night destroyed property near the suspension bridge, valued at $250,000.

Henry Vignaud, secretary of the U. S. embassy, in an interview in Paris stated that the American and the French governments were discussing the question of ex-Consul Waller's imprisonment in a friendly manner, and there was no indication of a disagreement.

A futile attempt was made on Saturday by the radical section of the English liberal party to oust Lord Rosebery from the leadership. At a secret meeting of the radical members, a memorial was drafted inviting Sir William Vernon Harcourt to assume the leadership of the liberal party. Only 17 members signed the memorial, and it was, therefore, dropped.

A serious attempt has been made at Paris upon the life of Baron Alphonse de Rothschild. A large and heavy envelope was received at the bank on Saturday addressed to the Baron and was opened by M. Jankowicz, the confidential clerk of the well known banker. Just as the clerk opened the envelope it exploded with great force, tearing his right eye out and blowing off some of his fingers.

By a collision at Toledo, Ohio, on Saturday evening, between an excursion steamer and a schooner, seven persons on the steamer were seriously injured, five probably fatally, while at least fifty persons received cuts and bruises. The schooner struck the steamer forward of her gangway, tearing away about fifty feet of her upper works. As soon as the collision occurred a panic reigned on board, the men acting like insane persons, most of them taking three or four life-preservers and refusing to give them up.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

W. W. Grayson, cashier of the internal-revenue office, in Lynchburg, died on Saturday, from typhoid fever, after a brief illness.

Barrett Smith died in Fluvanna county, on Saturday. His wife is in jail at Charlottesville, charged with administering croton oil to him with intent to kill.

The protracted brought in the counties of Southwest Virginia, where there has been no rain of consequence for the past six weeks, is playing havoc with the crops, and corn in particular.

Miss Rosa Walker, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Walker, who reside between Oldham's and Village, in Westmoreland county, was instantly killed by lightning Wednesday last while standing in the kitchen door.

Colonel James R. Branch, of Richmond, who has been appointed Bank Examiner for the district embracing Virginia and West Virginia and parts of North Carolina and Tennessee will enter upon his new duties the first of the month.

The assistant keeper of the Maryland Point light-house, in the Potomac river, resigned his position recently, and there are now twelve applicants in King George county for the place, besides a good many Marylanders. It looks at this time as if one of the latter will be the successful applicant.

A courier from Diamond Valley, Ore., reports the killing of 15 Bannock Indians by cattlemen under the leadership of "Rye" Smith. Smith's reason was revenge for the murder of his father in 1875 in Diamond Valley. There is great excitement in the town and throughout the Indian country.

William J. Urquhart has been sent to the penitentiary to serve five years for the killing of a man named Guy in Nanamond county twenty-five years ago. He was a fugitive from justice until a few months ago. Urquhart is sixty years old. His nephew, a minister of the Christian church, accompanied him to Richmond.

It is said by persons who ought to know that there are not more than a dozen coveys of partridges in King George county. Some farmers report that the small flocks that survived the severity of last winter's weather have not increased in number, for the reason that the continued rains of last spring destroyed nearly or quite all the young birds immediately after their hatching.

Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley. The perfecting of a plan of reorganization of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad, which is now operated by Gen. John Gill of Baltimore, as receiver, is delayed by a dispute and contention between the holders of the different series of bonds. The A, B and C series of bonds, while issued under one mortgage, are liens upon separate parts of the property. The holders of A series claim that the property represented by the middle section of the road is more valuable than that represented by the two end sections, B and C. It is said that a proposition was made to the A bondholders which gave them somewhat better terms than the holders of B and C series, but it was rejected. The securities of the company are principally owned in Baltimore and Baltimoreans compose the reorganization committee. Mr. Wm. H. Blackford is chairman and Mr. Frank T. Redwood secretary of the committee.—Baltimore News.

A dispatch from Baltimore says: Gen. John Gill, receiver of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroad Company; Vice President King, of the Baltimore and Ohio, and Colonel John A. Tompkins, expert accountant, have started on a trip of inspection over the Roanoke and Southern and the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley lines. It is said that Mr. King's object in making the trip is to examine those railroad properties for the purpose of determining the practicability of bringing them into a close alliance with the Baltimore and Ohio, thus giving that road access to a large section of the South, and putting it in position to make further connections and extensions in that section.

The Baltimore Sun says: The long-deferred extension of the Baltimore and Ohio southward from Lexington, its present terminus, is thought to be contemplated in the examination now being made by a Baltimore financier and a Baltimore and Ohio official of the Roanoke and Southern and Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroads. A roadbed has been partially completed from Lexington to Salem, near Roanoke, a distance of 50 miles. The completion of this missing link of 60 miles and the acquisition of control of the Roanoke and Southern and Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Roads would take the Baltimore and Ohio to Wilmington, N. C.

A dispatch from Berlin says that the Vossische Zeitung bears from Bonin that should America decline the request of the deputation to Washington to annex the island, the Hawaiians will beg England, with America's assistance, to enthronize Princess Kaiulani.

DEATH OF REV. HENDERSON SUTER, D.D.

Rev. Henderson Suter, the beloved and honored rector of old Christ Church in this city, died at the infirmary yesterday at twelve o'clock. This sad intelligence was not unexpected, as his serious condition was known to his family and friends, and had been stated in the GAZETTE. Mr. Suter had been in delicate health for many years. Last summer he received but little benefit from his vacation and had a severe attack of jaundice. He recovered from this with characteristic energy attended to his parochial and other duties. Still it was felt that he was not up to his usual mark of health, although he rarely referred to his condition except when inquiries were made by friends. About the middle of last July, however, he was compelled to give up. During the last two Sundays of that month he was unable to fill his pulpit, so on the former Rev. Dr. Walker, of the Seminary, took the services, and on the latter Mr. L. M. Blackford, Principal of the Episcopal High School and a vestryman of Christ Church.

Mr. Suter then went with his wife and daughter for change of air to Bedford City during the greater portion of August, the regular month of his vacation. But as there was no improvement in his health it became evident that his case was a serious one. He suffered intensely at times, and realizing himself that there was no change for the better, he determined to return home. Before and during his absence the rectory had been undergoing repairs and, although not quite finished, it was at once made comfortable for him. He returned last Thursday morning and remained at the rectory till Friday evening, when he was taken to the infirmary for the performance of an operation which was deemed absolutely necessary, as has been heretofore stated in these columns. The operation gave him relief but it was seen that all hope of recovery was gone and the end came, as we have already mentioned, yesterday at noon.

Rev. S. A. Wallis, who has had charge of the church during the month, was with him yesterday morning about nine o'clock and at his request read the prayers appointed by the church for the sick and dying. Mr. Suter joined audibly and earnestly in the Lord's prayer and, before the prayers were offered, had himself engaged in prayer. His family were all gathered around his bedside. His end was peaceful and that of a righteous man and minister of Jesus Christ. His calmness, resignation, trust and brave self-possession through all was wonderful. The operation had revealed cancer of the liver as a main trouble but a post mortem held yesterday evening showed that he had a complication of diseases which must have caused years of suffering. It was remarkable that he was able to accomplish so much and live as long as he did.

Dr. Suter was born in Georgetown, D. C., July 31st, 1828, consequently at the time of his death had entered upon his 67th year. His father, Alexander Suter, esq., was cashier of the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of that city. On the maternal side he was the grandson of the Rev. Thos. Read, the founder of old Rock Creek parish near Washington. His general education was received in his native city, upon the completion of which he decided to enter the Theological Seminary, near this city. He was not able to take the full course at this institution as he felt it his duty to undertake the support of his widowed sister and her children. He was for a time in his early manhood deputy clerk of the old circuit court of the District of Columbia. The desire of his life was finally accomplished, and he received ordination to the diaconate in 1857. His first charge was Grace Church, Georgetown. Thence he removed to Berkeville, Clarke county, where he was rector of Grace Church for nine years, being there during the trying years of the civil war. He resigned this charge in 1866 to become rector of the church in Halifax C. H.

As the climate did not agree with his health nor that of his family, he remained there only ten months. His subsequent charges were St. Paul's Church, Lynchburg; Wickliffe Church, Clarke county; St. John's Church, Liberty, now Bedford City, and Christ Church, in this city, to which he was called in 1878 on the resignation of the Rev. Wm. M. Dame, who had accepted a call to Memorial Church, Baltimore.

Mr. Suter entered upon his duties as rector here on the first Sunday in September, so his last Sunday on earth was the last Sunday of his seventeenth year as rector of Christ Church.

Dr. Suter was one of the most prominent clergymen in the diocese of Virginia. He was a man of talent, intellect and remarkable administrative ability. He was recognized as an able and gifted preacher. He occupied the most prominent offices that can be filled by a presbyter in the diocese. He was a member of the standing committee of the diocese, and an examining chaplain, a member of the board of trustees of the education society and its executive committee, also its secretary and treasurer. Besides he was one of the board of trustees of the Theological Seminary and High School, and with Col. Arthur Herbert and Mr. Julian T. Burke on the executive committee of the board. The duties of this committee are the general business management and supervision of the seminary buildings and grounds during the interim between the sessions of the board. Mr. Suter was deeply interested in the improvements made during recent years at the seminary and to him in conjunction with Prof. Crawford is due the present well-kept and beautiful condition of its surroundings.

The same administrative ability was shown by him in the rectorship of Christ Church. Its glebe yard was ever an object of his care and interest, which made it what it now is. He loved the historic fame of which he considered it a privilege to be rector, and heartily entered into the plans and work of restoration as far as possible to its ancient colonial interior, which was happily accomplished a few years ago. As rector of Christ Church, he was invited to offer the prayer at the dedication of the Washington monument at the ceremonies held at the base of the monument February 22nd, 1885.

Dr. Suter was universally esteemed and respected by all denominations and classes of citizens. He was a man of sound judgment and high Christian integrity. This together with his remarkable administrative ability gave weight in the many positions he so honorably filled in the diocese, also in his various charges. He possessed a fine library and was an untiring student and sound theologian of clear, decided convictions. While devoted to his own church and to her traditions and history in Virginia, where he ministered during all the years of his life as presbyter, he always maintained the most cordial relations with ministers and people of other churches of Christ. He will be greatly missed by his people to whom he ministered so long and faithfully, in this city and in the diocese of Virginia at large. But "at home with the Lord" he rests after years of bodily suffering borne with Christian fortitude, in sure and certain hope of the resurrection unto eternal life.

Dr. Suter leaves a wife, who was Miss Davidson, of Georgetown, and seven children, Dr. Henderson Suter, Jr., of Washington, Dr. Norwood Suter, formerly a surgeon in the United States army, now of Springfield, Mass., Mr. John Suter, of Lynchburg, Messrs. Alexander and Frank Suter and Misses Mary and Fannie Suter of this city. The sympathy of his parishioners, and all the community is fervently expressed for his family in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will take place from Christ Church, to-morrow morning at half-past ten o'clock. The interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery, Georgetown. The services will be conducted by Rev. S. A. Wallis, assisted by other clergy of the neighborhood and the pall bearers will be the vestrymen of Christ Church and Col. Arthur Herbert. The remains will be taken from this city on the 11:30 boat. The vestrymen of Christ Church will meet this evening and take suitable action regarding Mr. Suter's death. The interior of the church has been draped in mourning.

KENTUCKY POLITICS.

The conference of the leading democrats called for Saturday met at Louisville at the State headquarters behind closed doors. The sound money democrats outnumbered the silver men on the committee, but a majority of the committee are personal friends of Hardin.

General Hardin and all the other candidates on the democratic ticket were present at the conference. Gen. Hardin made a speech full of vigor. He did not recede one iota from the position he has taken on the financial question. He contended he was standing on the platform and was not in conflict with his party. He said he would submit to a caucus of the party, but he would not yield to dictation. He asserted his ability to construe the platform and said he abides by his utterances and has nothing to retract or modify. When he closed there was warm applause from the free silver men present.

All of the candidates with the exception of Mr. Tyler, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, agreed to stand by Hardin in his construction of the platform. Mr. Tyler announced his purpose of continuing to speak for sound money, no matter what the utterances of the head of the ticket might be on the currency question.

A committee of five, consisting of three Sibley and two gold men, were appointed to draft an address to the democratic voters of the State. The voters will be called upon to support General Hardin as well as the remainder of the ticket. The address will also urge democrats to drop the currency issue. It was after 6 o'clock when the meeting adjourned.

Senator Blackburn when asked what he thought of the State central committee for calling General Hardin before them replied: "I think they are a set of d—d fools. I never heard of such a foolish thing in Kentucky politics before. Yes; I like the way Hardin talks to them, but I don't think he made his remarks quite strong enough. He ought to have said, in a diplomatic way, that it was none of their d—d business, and that as far as he was concerned they might go to h—l."

O'FERRALL FOR SOUND MONEY.

Governor O'Ferrall has given out a statement of his financial views. He declares his opposition to the free coinage of silver, except through an international agreement, and holds that there is anything in government next to liberty itself in which the farmer and wage earner are most interested it is an unflattering market, steady wages and sound money. Otherwise they become the prey of sharp traders and speculators, and if there is any class whom free coinage without international agreement would not harm it is the bankers. The Governor declares for a sound dollar, meaning one that will pass for 100 cents and be as good as any other dollar in the limits of the civilized world. "Gold is that dollar now," he says. "Silver may be also kept at a parity with gold, but this can be done only by an international agreement."

Referring to the charge that his views had undergone Governor O'Ferrall says: "My position while in Congress was one of doubt as to the policy of independent free coinage, and it was so regarded. If, however, I had been a warm and avowed independent free coinage advocate, I should not hesitate to give utterance to my present views, and I trust the day will never come when I am found adhering to a position which I believe to be erroneous for the sake of consistency."

ACQUITTED.—Col. Chas. H. Loud, of Mount Vernon, Ga., who shot and killed Phil Fitzpatrick at Thunderbolt some weeks ago, was tried Saturday for murder and acquitted. The evidence showed that Fitzpatrick started to kick down the door of a room in which Loud was with Helene Stockton, better known as Miss Helene LaZelle. Helene opened the door and urged Fitzpatrick to leave, but he rushed in and Loud retreated to the window, half hanging out of which he fired the shot. In his charge to the jury, Judge Falligant said in Georgia no Georgian is required to retreat beyond the threshold of his domicile.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

The Templars.

Boston, Aug. 26.—The busiest place in Boston is the headquarters of the Triennial Conclave. The committee of Knights Templar. The conclave is decidedly suggestive of the headquarters of the commander-in-chief of an army about to be led into a battle, and the Knights, clad in the picturesque regalia of the order, lent the martial touch necessary to complete the scene.

Under the direction of the reception committees the streets are filled with marching men. At the railroad stations detachments from Boston commanderies are receiving the invading templars and marching them off to their various headquarters. The trains bearing the visiting commanderies are running close to schedule and there is little danger that any commander will be tied up on a railroad siding while its fellows are marching in the grand parade.

The city is rapidly filling up with strangers, the weather promises to be propitious and the indications all point to the most successful conclave in the history of the order.

The leading members of the order believe that Pittsburgh will have a walk over in securing the next conclave for that city. The office of grand recorder is now filled by appointment, the former recorder having died recently. There are many candidates for that place, among them being W. B. Isaacs, Jr., son of the late grand recorder, and Mr. Thomas, of Washington.

It is generally understood that the Grand Master, Hugh McCurdy, of Michigan, will be succeeded by W. LaRue Thomas, of Kentucky.

The other officers down to the junior grand warden will probably be promoted.

For the position of junior grand warden there will be several candidates. The chances are that W. B. Melish, imperial potentate of the shrine, will be elected.

The "Old Dominion" Knights came in numbers this morning on the Fall River boat train. The Alexandria commandery was aboard, also Knights from Petersburg and Portsmouth. The principal representative body from Virginia was Grice, 16 of Norfolk. This commandery brought 33 Sir Knights and 17 ladies, besides several gentlemen who came as guests of the commandery.

Foreign News.

MADRID, Aug. 26.—It is asserted that the government has abandoned its intention to send 25,000 soldiers to Cuba in October. It is also said that General Martinez Campos has declared that he will resign if the Spanish government insists upon the appointment of a lieutenant general in Cuba.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A dispatch from Shanghai says advice have been received there from Cheng Tu that the victory has already caused the execution of four of the leaders of the attack recently made by natives upon the Christian mission at Ku Cheng.

A Policeman Fatally Shot.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 26. Patrolman John J. Dailey was shot and fatally injured early this morning at the corner of Charles and Conway streets. The officer attempted to arrest four men who were disturbing the peace. One of these, Dailey's stick and dealt him a severe blow on the head. The policeman then drew his revolver, but before he could use the weapon one of the rioters wrenched it from his hand and sent a bullet through his back. The bullet perforated Dailey's kidneys and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

Green Goods Man Convicted.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Aug. 26.—John Dame, the leader of the West Virginia green goods men who have been working the western part of this State for years and reaped a harvest of thousands of dollars, was found guilty to-day of felony, in Lincoln county, and goes up for seven years.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a called meeting on Saturday night of the Board of Trade, of which the late Mr. F. A. REED was president, Mr. Walter Roberts was called to the chair, and Mr. John W. May acted as secretary.

After several members had spoken of the great loss to the board and city, and in praise of the sterling qualities of Frank A. Reed, it was voted that a committee be appointed to draft suitable resolutions in regard to his death.

Mr. James R. Caton, Mr. Julian T. Burke, and Mr. M. B. Harlow were appointed as a committee, and reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Whereas, We have heard with feelings mingled with sorrow and regret, of the untimely death of our able and efficient presiding officer, Frank A. Reed, esq., and desire to express our sincere appreciation of his character and worth, as our executive head, as an associate, a fellow citizen, and a friend.

Resolved, That in the death of Frank A. Reed, esq., this board has lost an able, capable and an enterprising executive officer and associate; the community an intelligent, broad minded and progressive business man; the city one of its most useful and progressive citizens; his friends and associates an intelligent, faithful and genial companion; and the domestic circle a kind, indulgent and generous member.

Resolved, That in the deceased were embodied all the characteristics of true manhood; a man of fine personal presence; a gifted speaker; a mind bright, intelligent and cultured; a heart warm and impulsive, always keenly susceptible to the influence of his friends and loved ones; a spirit generous and true, ever willing to sacrifice selfish interests for the good of others; prominent in the business community for over a quarter of a century, first in every enterprise promotive of the welfare of the city and people he loved so well; engaged in every noble interest, yet always maintaining a character for business sagacity, strict integrity, and without reproach. In all things a true and distinguished type of manhood.

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved family our sincere sympathy, in this their hour of great affliction, and assure them of our deep interest in their future welfare.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be spread upon the minutes, published in the daily papers, and a copy thereof transmitted to the family of the deceased.

JOHN H. MAY, Secretary.
